

Big 4 Foreign Ministers Seek To Save Peace Talks At Paris

By ROBERT EUNSON
Paris, Aug. 29 (P)—The foreign ministers of Britain, Russia, the United States and France met this afternoon in an effort to find a way of revitalizing the Paris peace conference.

Shortly before the ministers gathered in the office of Georges Bidault, president and foreign minister of France, the conference had witnessed another of the clashes which have bedeviled the peace making. An Australian proposal to establish a sub-committee to collect factual data on the Italian-French frontier was beaten 13 to six in the Italian commission after a heated Australian-Russian exchange.

The four principal powers and nine other nations voted against the Australian plan.

In Historic Room
U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Bidault met in the building containing the famous clock room where the Big Four of 1919 framed the treaties which they too hoped would end war.

Their first task, it was believed, was to devise a common ground for dealing with the 300 amendments to treaty drafts which have snowed the conference under. As they met only the preambles to four of the treaties had been adopted in commissions. The conference itself had yet to pass on most of these, having passed on less than 200 of the 55,000 words in the five treaties for Bulgaria, Italy, Romania, Finland and Hungary.

Secretary Byrnes was the first to arrive at the Quai d'Orsay. He was accompanied by his advisors for the meeting, Senators Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Tom Connally (D-Tex), and his interpreter, Charles Bohlen.

John A. Beasley, the Australian delegate, took up the award of the Mont Cenis Plateau to France in particular in his argument before the Italian commission that a special committee should make a study on all disputed territorial questions connected with the Italian treaty.

BULLETINS

Bad Nauheim, Germany, Aug. 29 (P)—Col. James A. Kilian of Highland Park, Ill., former Commander of the U. S. Army's replacement depot at Lichfield, England, was convicted today of permitting cruel and unusual punishment of American soldiers imprisoned in the depot guardhouse.

Kilian was fined $500 and reprimanded by the seven-officer military court. The court convicted him after two hours deliberation at the end of the 10-week trial.

Nanking, Aug. 29 (P)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was reported reliably today to have approved the creation of a committee of five, headed by American Ambassador John Leighton Stuart, to clear the way for a coalition government taking in all parties. This was regarded here as the most hopeful development in the Chinese situation in recent weeks.

Jerusalem, Aug. 29 (P)—British troops continued today their painstaking search of two more Jewish villages and tightened security measures around a prison where 18 members of the so-called Stern gang are being held under sentence of death for sabotage.

Calcutta, Aug. 29 (P)—More than 1,000,000 Moslems celebrated the religious festival of Id-ul-Fitr in Calcutta today against a sombre background of rioting and carnage which broke out August 16 when members of the Moslem league observed "direct action day." Strict military police measures invoked as an aftermath of the riots remained in force.

Athens, Greece, Aug. 29 (P)—The Soviet Ambassador, Adm. K. K. Rodionov, announced today that the Soviet Charge d'Affaires in Greece would be first Secretary G. Tchernossey. Rodionov thus indicated his departure for Moscow did not mean a break in Soviet-Greek relations.

While Topper was busy chasing members of the Rife family Mrs. Rebecca Rife called state police here. While the officers were getting the address they could hear a woman's screams in the background.

Cpl. Warns Motorists Of No-Passing Zone

Cpl. Joseph Pochyba of the local sub-station of the state police today reminded motorists that the one and one-half mile stretch of the Lincoln highway west of the Adams-Franklin county line and extending through the Caledonia area is a no-passing zone.

Eight arrests have been made during the past ten days by members of the local sub-station of motorists passing within the zone. Because of the scenic beauty of the area, the narrowness of the road and the rolling countryside, many accidents occurred because of cars passing, the officer said. As a result the section was made into a no-passing zone.

JURY CONVICTS JOHN D. BECKER ON BOTH COUNTS

An Adams county jury found John D. Becker, South Washington street, a second hand clothing dealer, guilty of two charges of receiving stolen goods after 55 minutes of deliberation Wednesday afternoon. Becker probably will be sentenced Saturday.

The case was the last criminal trial for the current session of county court.

In a surprise move Pfc. James W. Walsh, of the local state police sub-station, was brought to the stand as a defense witness by Attorney Donald M. Swope.

Becker on Wednesday morning had told the jury that "when Chief Harpster came to the store the first time to ask if I had purchased anything from John Nelson I told him I had bought two coats, a suitcase and a watch and that while I did not know if they were about at that time, I would look for them." Harpster had denied on the stand that Becker had ever told him he had purchased articles from Nelson.

Dual Investigation

When court reconvened Wednesday Becker was brought back to the stand and told the jury he had been mistaken in his belief that he had made the statement concerning the purchase to Chief Harpster. Instead, he said, he had made the statements sometime previous to Harpster's investigation to State Policeman Walsh.

Walsh then went to the stand to testify that he had seen Becker and that Becker had told him of the purchases. The state policeman added that shortly afterward he had gone on vacation and had turned the Nelson case over to Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff. When the state police learned that Chief Harpster was independently investigating the alleged purchase of stolen clothes by Becker from Harry Stonessier, Jr., the two collaborated on the cases and Harpster was picked as prosecutor for both cases.

James Moore, J. Calvin Shank and George Martin, three local businessmen, appeared as character witnesses for Becker.

Assault Case Settled

An assault and battery case brought against Wilfred Scheivert, Hanover, and to which Scheivert had pleaded guilty, was settled Wednesday when Scheivert agreed to make a $750 cash payment to Pauline Myers, Reading township, the prosecutrix, to pay for hospital and other expenses incurred as a result of Scheivert's pushing her from a porch in Conewago township. As a result of the push and fall the prosecutrix suffered a broken ankle and other injuries.

Following the Becker case the court drew a jury for the action in assumpt brought by R. M. Walton, Mt. Joy township against E. Charles Matthias, Littlestown. The civil case, last on the docket for August court, was started in 1944 shortly after Walton purchased a farm from Matthias.

All jurors with the exception of the ones for the final case were dismissed Wednesday afternoon with the court's thanks.

Civil Case On Trial

Members of the jury for the Walton trial included James A. Straley, Littlestown; Mrs. Marian Millhimes, New Oxford R. D.; Charles Cashman, Hanover R. D.; Theodore C. Goss, McKnightstown; Philip G. Smith, Hanover R. D.; Melvin Altland, East Berlin; Howard Hankey, New Oxford R. D.; Paul R. Snyder, Littlestown; Mrs. Edna Keagy, Hanover R. D.; Mrs. Frances Shultz, Cashtown; Mrs. Mae Keet, Gettysburg and John E. McDonnell, Gettysburg.

First August Civil Suit

The case was the first civil trial to be brought before the court in August within the memory of court house officials. It was continued from April court because illness of one of the witnesses at that time prevented hearing the case.

Walton is seeking damages totaling $3,317 from Matthias. He told the jury this morning that when he purchased the property he was assured that it was free from all encumbrances, rights of easements. When he read the deed however, Walton said, he found that the Metropolitan Edison company had a right of way across the property, that a Pure Oil company pipe line ran across the farm and that there was a ground rent due to Adams county. He estimated, he said, that the right-of-way and the pipe line and ground rent reduced his property value by $2,825. The other $492, Walton said, is the estimated cost of small tools, equipment, window shades, flowers and shrubs which he alleges were removed from the property after he had bought the place and everything that was there with the exception of cattle.

Property Cost $11,000

Only the plaintiff's side of the case was presented this morning. County Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner was called to the

KKK PROBE IN STATE ASKED BY GOVERNOR

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—An investigation of the Ku Klux Klan in Pennsylvania was urged on Governor Edward Martin today by Justice J. Edgar Hoover of the New York supreme court.

Citing what he said was "an open letter to the public" from the Frank- nersburg, Pa., Public Opinion, at Friday, Justice Steinbrink urged he Pennsylvania chief executive "to direct the investigative and prosecu- tive forces of the state" to pro- ceed immediately against the Klan. "This advertisement audaciously reveals the existence of organized Klan activity in Franklin County, a, and publicly solicits member- ship," Justice Steinbrink said a state- ment issued as chairman of the board of directors of the anti-de- mation league of B'nai B'rith. "There is no need to dwell upon the un-American character of the coded order of the Klan," the atement continued. "Citizens of very state now look to you, as the governor of Pennsylvania, the cradle of religious liberty, to maintain that low in your state against this re- nunciation of organized labor."

The Franklin county Klan, Stein- brink said, was inciting race hatred by falsely claiming in the adver- sement that "if the negro gets his rote they will turn quickly on those who held them down."

SAYS 5 NAZI GROUPS GUILTY

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Amer- ican Prosecutor Thomas J. Dodd asked the international war crimes tribunal at Nuremberg today for a guilty verdict against five "Nazi- created" or "Nazi-perverted" or- ganizations.

He declared the indicted Reich cabinet, Political Leadership Corps, SS Elite Guard, SA Brown Shirts and Gestapo—together with the military high command—were the principal agencies through which the Nazis effected their "enormous crimes" against civilization.

"Deprive the Nazi conspirators of these organizations and they could never have accomplished their crim- inal aims," Dodd told the tribunal. By convicting them, he said, the court would show mankind: "That no crime will go unpun- ished because it was committed in the name of a political party or of a state; that no crime will be passed by because it is too big; that no criminals will avoid punishment be- cause they are too many."

Dodd is executive trial counsel for Associate Justice R. H. Jackson, the U. S. Chief Prosecutor. The text of his plea was made public here by the American prosecution staff.

Jackson earlier had urged the conviction of 22 individual Nazi leaders, who with the organiza- tions have been on trial since last November. If an organization is convicted of war crimes, the next step by the Allies will be to identify and try individual members other than the 22 principals in the main case.

stand as first witness to read the deed to the property.

Walton testified he had paid $11,000 for the property. The Metro- politan Edison right he said reduced the value of his property by $50, the ground rent by another $50 and the pipe line by $2,750.

Matthias was called to the stand by Attorney Eugene Bullett, who represents Walton, but due to deaf- nesses answered only a few questions. John C. Bream, Gettysburg, R. D. and John H. Baschore, East Middle street, local real estate brokers, were called to testify as to the value of the property and to the amount that the pipe line reduces the value of the property. Both esti- mated the damage caused by the pipe line at approximately $1,000.

MEAD MAY QUIT AS PROBE HEAD

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Senator James M. Mead probably will offer his resignation as chairman of the Senate War Investigating commit- tee if the New York Democratic convention nominates him for gov- ernor next week.

Mead, who still won't say pub- licly whether he prefers to run for the Senate again or for governor, reportedly has discussed with other committee members the possibility of relinquishing the chairmanship if he seeks state office. He is ex- pected to retain his Senate seat and committee membership for the re- mainder of this year, in any event.

The committee spent weeks earlier this summer probing the Garsson munitions combine.

Members say Mead's choice to direct the inquiry group this fall and winter is chairman Connolly (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Re- lations committee—if Connolly can be prevailed upon to undertake the additional chore of digging into war profits.

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—A Hagerstown, Md., man who wrote the Waynesboro Record-Herald he would like to marry a "right kind of a girl" had at least eight possible choices today as love letters made page one news in this south-central Pennsylvania city.

The newspaper wasn't disclosing any names, but said it had forward- ed four letters and as many addi- tional telephone numbers to the original writer.

One "prospect" wrote she "works hard every day. I am also looking for a boyfriend." Another letter said: "I am 32 years of age and do not care to run around only with the one I love. I was married and my husband left me and I also have one little girl 8 years of age."

YOUTH HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)— Thirteen-year-old Charles H. Haz- lett, Jr., of Pittsburgh, charged with first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of his friend in Pittsburgh last New Year's eve, was held in Erie county jail today awaiting receipt of extradition papers from Pennsylvania.

The skeleton of his playmate, Michael Gerrich, 12, was found Tuesday in the cellar of a house formerly occupied by the Hazlett family.

The first step in the extradition proceedings was taken late yester- day when Hazlett was brought be- fore City Court Judge John J. Kelly.

An information signed by Detec- tive Sgt. Albert A. Zaeplf, head of the youth bureau, was presented to the court. It named the Hazlett boy as "a fugitive from justice from the state of Pennsylvania, where he stands charged with the crime of murder, first degree."

"I'll have to hold you, Charles, un- til the commonwealth of Pennsylv- ania sends extradition papers," Judge Kelly said, adding it was mandatory that he remand the boy to jail instead of a detention home because the youth was accused of a capital offense.

HIGHLY TRAINED GUARD PLANNED

Harrisburg, Aug. 29 (AP)—The new Pennsylvania National Guard will be trained so thoroughly that every member will be "ready for im- mediate service, at home, or abroad."

Lt. Col. James Calvin (Hap) Frank, told that to a group of Guard officers yesterday at a con- ference here adding officers of the newly organized units "must require thoroughness in training, especially in the basic stages."

Frank said that by next February many members of the Guard will be eligible to attend army conducted schools on technical and tactical subjects. The schools are being op- erated by the regular army.

A large scale expansion program of all military establishments in the state was predicted by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, deputy adjutant general, who declared that most of the 94 state owned armories are in- adequate to handle the larger units now being formed in the Guard.

Weber said that more units are being formed now than existed in the pre-war era, and that most of them are larger, and require extra space for equipment. He cited the proposed motorized units to show that there will not even be enough space available for storage purposes for these units.

Petrillo Says 'No'; Mexicans Are Out

San Mateo, Calif., Aug. 29 (AP)—The Mexican Tipica Orchestra will not appear at the San Mateo County International Pan-American Fiesta, and probably will not be able to play at the Texas State Fair, because James Petrillo disapproves of for- eigners competing with his union's musicians.

In reply to a request for a ruling on the use of the Mexican musicians at the Fiesta here, the American Federation of Musicians president told the San Mateo Fiesta commit- tee that he "objects strongly to any foreign bands playing" within his union's jurisdiction.

He added that if the Tipica band plays at the Texas State Fair start- ing October 5, a booking which had been called to his attention, "it will be against our wishes."

The reply, which was interpreted by the Fiesta committee as banning the appearance of any non-AFL foreign musical artists in the United States, was received yesterday in a telegram from Petrillo.

Three-Week Recess In Trial Of Wac

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 29 (AP)—The prosecution concluded today its case against Mrs. Kathleen Nash Durant, charged with larceny and embezzlement of the Kronberg jewel collection. The military court granted the defense a three-week recess to line up its witnesses.

The court threw out the con- spiracy charge against the WAC captain, approving a defense con- tention that evidence failed to sup- port it.

Prosecution attorneys said the War Department had prepared to send witnesses for the defense by air from the United States next week. The defense has asked for at least six witnesses from the United States.

Among witnesses sought are army officers at Fort Sheridan, Ill. The defense wishes them to testify in its effort to show that Mrs. Durant never was reintroduced into the service and therefore is not subject to military court martial.

BARBERS DOWN STATE HIGHWAY TO GAIN FINALS

Bobby Knox and Gene King collaborated in stealing the show as the Varsity Barbers gained the finals in the playoffs for the championship of the Community Softball league Wednesday evening by taking their second straight game from the State Highway 3-1 in two extra frames.

Knox lashed out a triple and homerun, the latter coming with Joe Hess aboard and breaking up the tie in the ninth inning. His triple in the top half of the seventh after which he scored on an infield out broke a scoreless tie.

King turned in one of the best defensive plays of the season in the fourth inning to save the contest for the Barbers. With Everhart on third and Donaldson on second base as the result of an error and single, and with two out, King grabbed Kennell's hard line drive off the tips of his shoes after a long hard run to retire the side.

The large audience was treated to one of the best games of the season. The Highway men outthit their opponents 10-7 but left 10 batsmen stranded on the bases.

After six scoreless frames the Barbers tallied in the seventh when Knox led off with a triple and scored on Timbers' infield out.

The Highway came right back with a run. Rohrbach lashed a hit to left and reached third when it slipped through the outfield. Kennell popped out and then R. King singled Rohrbach home.

With one out in the top half of the ninth, Hess reached base on an error. Knox then poled a hard line drive over Spahr's head in left which was good for a homerun and sewed up the game.

This evening at 6:30 o'clock the Elks and Marketers clash in the second of the series. In the event the Elks tie the series by winning tonight the deciding game will be played Friday evening.

CARDS WIN TWO TO TAKE GAME AND HALF LEAD

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

Manager Eddie Dyer's knack of picking the right pinch hitter at the right time has moved the fast flying St. Louis Cardinals into a game and a half lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the sizzling National league pennant race.

Dyer put the finger on Rookie Walter Sess last night and the young outfielder, who had connected for only one hit in 11 official times at bat, came through with a two-run ninth-inning homer which gave the Redbirds a 3-2 victory over New York Giants and a sweep of the day and night doubleheader at St. Louis.

Earlier in the day, the Cards had broken their first-place deadlock with the Dodgers by outslugging the Giants 13-8 while the Dodgers were bowing to the Chicago Cubs, 4-3. Two Cub runs in the last of the ninth proved the Dodgers' undoing, a few minutes after Pee Wee Reese's eighth inning triple had apparently won for Brooklyn.

Largest Night Crowd
With 71,551 cash customers, the largest crowd ever to see a night game, looking on at the Yankee stadium, the New York Yankees held 22-game winner Bob Feller his 10th defeat when Ernie Bonham shut out the Cleveland Indians 4-0. In another night game, Orval Grove and the Chicago White Sox shaded Bobo Newsom and the Senators in Washington 2-1 in 12 innings.

With Denny Galehouse pitching two hit ball, the St. Louis Browns shut out the Athletics 7-0. Cincinnati and the Braves divided a doubleheader, the Braves winning the opener 8-4 and losing the nightcap, 2-0.

Detroit finally beat the Boston Red Sox after nine straight losses at Fenway park, downing the American league leaders 7-2. Oscar Judd limited the Pirates to four hits and drove in two runs with a double as the Philadelphia Phils shoved Pittsburgh deeper into the National league cellar with a 4-1 triumph.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
New York, Aug. 29 (P)—What's this boxing business coming to?

Welterweight Champ Marty Servo spent a lot of money acquiring the title and has paid out more good cash for two tune-up fights preparatory to defending it against Ray Robinson next week. . . . And now Robinson comes along with the statement that he'll contribute his entire purse, minus training expenses and the manager's cut, to the Police Athletic League. . . . Servo "owed himself $9,000" (as Manager Al Weill explains) after lifting the crown from Red Cochrane because of a guarantee to Red. Then he took on Middleweight Rocky Graziano for a "money" fight and had the expense of an operation on his nose added to the costs. Since then he has had to pay Jimmy Anest and Bobby Lakin to fight him at army hospitals because he wasn't permitted to make tuneup fights. . . . Do you wonder that Weill claims: "Marty ain't going to let that title go easy."

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS
The verbal exchange between Mississippi State and Army over Shorty McWilliams, while it's tough on a good kid who also is a good football player, may clear the college football atmosphere a bit if the name-calling continues until next winter's National Collegiate A.A. meeting. . . . last month didn't really accomplish anything, but if the whole college group starts hollering next winter they may decide to give the NCAA police power. . . . And, if it should happen, this writer would like nothing better than to listen in.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Although they escaped from St. Louis, the Dodgers aren't safe yet. Three of the eight shutouts they have absorbed this season were at Chicago's Wrigley Field. . . . And it leads you to wonder about the quality of amateur golf when a Brooklyn detective who swings cross-handed cops the New York sectional qualifying honors. At least there'll be a lot of new names in the Baltusrol tourney.

Boxer In Hospital After Altoona Bout

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 29 (P)—Jack Wilder, 145-pound fighter from Jacksonville, Fla., ended up in Altoona hospital last night after he was knocked out in the first round of his main-event fight with Chuck Taylor, 142 pounds, of Coalport. Wilder dropped from a blow on the throat after the fighters appeared evenly matched at the start. Harry Jordan, 161 pounds, of Clearfield, knocked out Ed Kennedy, 152 pounds, of Pittsburgh, in 45 seconds of the first round and Ronnie Moore, 145, Johnstown, outpointed Art Kimmel, 147, of Altoona. More competently trained and competently directed.

Benefit Contest At Emmitsburg Monday

Announcement was made that the Emmitsburg and Taneytown baseball teams of the Penn-Maryland league will play a benefit game for John Breth, Taneytown, on the Emmitsburg field next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Breth, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Breth, Taneytown, was struck in the mouth and nose by a baseball bat while watching the teams play on August 18.

DOC KEARNS HAS NEW PRODIGY

By TED MEIER

Camden, N. J., Aug. 29 (P)—Old Jack "Doc" Kearns, who piloted Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight championship two decades ago, today was back on the boxing big time with a new "white hope," Joey Maxim, of Cleveland.

Maxim last night turned one of boxing's biggest upsets in years when he gained a disputed 10-round decision over Jersey Joe Walcott before 7,709, Camden's largest outdoor boxing crowd in history, at the Camden ball park.

Although Maxim's victory was tainted by the fact that Jersey Joe, being groomed for a possible title bout with Joe Louis, injured his hands in the second round and thereafter was unable to do his best, Kearns declared he was agreeable to a rematch "anytime to prove this was not a fluke."

The decision of Referee Paul Cavalier, the only official, came as a stunning surprise. Cavalier gave Maxim five rounds, Walcott three and called two even. The Associated Press had Walcott on top, six rounds to three with one even. Cavalier said later "Walcott did not fight his usual fight and he was outboxed by Maxim."

In the dressing room Walcott's hands appeared badly swollen. X-rays taken later at a hospital showed he had suffered a broken bone in his left hand, and several knuckles in his right hand were dislocated. The fight, put on as a benefit for the Camden County Elks' crippled children fund, grossed $27,869. Walcott weighed 192 pounds, Maxim 180.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
Apparently not satisfied with clinching the Eastern league pennant, the Scranton baseball club appears determined to run its string of triumphs to 100 for the season, a feat never before accomplished in the circuit.

The Minotown lads recorded their 89th victory last night by pounding four Albany pitchers for 13 hits and a 12-3 win over the second-place Senators. The Elmira Pioneers, nipped Utica, and the Wilkes-Barre Barons downed the Hartford Chiefs 10-8 in the first game of a double-header, but lost the second, 7-6.

In another twin bill which involved tail-enders, the Williamsport Grays handed the Binghamton Triplets a dual reverse, 3-2 and 9-0. Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 29 (P)—The American Baseball Guild's charge of unfair labor practices by the Pittsburgh National league baseball club will be aired at a hearing September 17 in Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board announced. The charge was filed by Guild Organizer Robert Murphy August 20, the same day that Pirate players voted 15 to three against collective bargaining representation by the Guild.

Oil City, Pa., Aug. 29 (P)—Fire destroyed the club house of the Oil City Boat club yesterday and damaged an adjacent dance hall. Firemen said the blaze broke out while a group of women was holding a card party. The destroyed building was valued at $10,000 to $15,000.

INTERSTATE IN PLAYOFF STAGE

(By The Associated Press)
Five teams claimed first-division berths in the interstate league today as the battle for playoff positions continued.

Allentown's Cardinals joined the select group last night by sweeping a second straight doubleheader from Sunbury, 6-5 and 18-4, to move into a fourth-place tie with the Yankees. Eddie Sudol's homer was the clincher blow of the opening game. York's White Roses dropped one and one-half games behind the Sunbury-Allentown pace by bowing to Harrisburg 7-3 in the final game of the year between the two clubs. Maynard Snyder chalked up his 14th win of the year to move the Senators within a game of second place Hagerstown.

The Owls split even with Wilmington's leaders, losing the first game of a doubleheader 9-3 but coming back with a 2-0 win on seven-hit pitching by Minogue.

The cellar series wound up in an even break, Trenton winning the first game of a doubleheader 5-4 and losing the second to Lancaster 11-1. The split left Lancaster's Red Roses five full games behind the Giants, with only an outside chance to escape last place. Games tonight, Wilmington at Harrisburg; Allentown at Lancaster; Trenton at Hagerstown; York at Sunbury.

Coffee, chocolate and tea were among the first products advertised in newspapers.

State College Is Half Century Old

State College, Pa., Aug. 29 (P)—The borough of State College—home of the Pennsylvania State college—is 50-year-old today. The whole town will celebrate the anniversary to-night at an official ceremony.

Three phases of the town's growth—the borough itself, the college and the county—will be traced in brief talks in the high school football stadium.

J. Laird Holmes, one of the first councilmen and burgesses, will speak for the town, Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the college for Penn State; and Judge Ivan Walker of Bellefonte, for the county.

Harry Adamitz, president of the college high school student council, will appear as a representative of the youth of the town.

State College became a borough on August 29, 1896, when its charter was approved in Centre county court.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

First Peaches Sent to New York Markets. Adams county's commercial peach crop began moving toward metropolitan markets on Saturday.

The first carload of peaches sent from Adams county this fall was shipped from Biglerville by O. C.
Rice, one of the largest growers in the county. The probable destination of the fruit will be New York city, Mr. Rice said.

Graduated at Biglerville: Miss Miriam Olive Group, of Gardners, valedictorian of the class of 1926 at the Biglerville high school, has been notified that by reason of having made the highest average in examinations held last May, she will be the recipient of the state scholarship for Adams county.

Miss Group, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Group, plans to enter Dickinson college next month.
She plans to teach school after graduating.

Gettysburg Ice and Storage, on Twentieth Anniversary. One of County's Leading Industries: It was a forward and, at that time, considered a somewhat daring step by a small group of Gettysburg men when they banded themselves and erected a small ice manufacturing plant along the Western Maryland railroad tracks in 1906.

The group comprised William B.
McIlhenny, of near Hunterstown; C.
William Beales, J. L. Butt, C. J.
Spaulding, Hagerstown, and M. E.
Zinn, since deceased.

Riley Harnish, who has since died, was the first manager, and the small plant for the manufacturing of ice had a capacity of 20,000 pounds every 24 hours.

From an original investment of $40,000, the Gettysburg Ice and Storage company has grown to a concern with a book value in excess of $350,000 including plant and equipment.

From a business employing only a few men, it has developed into a hustling and bustling concern with nearly 40 men and women on its weekly payroll.

'Rudy' Valentino, Original Movie Sheik. Succumbs. (By Associated Press). New York, August 23.—
Rudolph Valentino, original sheik of the movies, died today.

Last night he suffered a relapse due to pleurisy, which set in his left chest, due to weakness following a double operation for acute appendicitis and gastric ulcers, and accompanying local peritonitis.

Valentino came east several weeks ago to attend the Broadway premiere of his last picture and to bid farewell to his brother who was returning to his home in Italy for a visit.

Having collapsed in his apartment, he was removed to the Poly-clinic hospital, where an immediate operation was decided upon.

one of Gettysburg's largest hotels was re-opened for business Monday

since July 15.

George F. Eberhart, son of Frank

Today's Talk

FEEL LIKE SOMEBODY

The first step in becoming important is to feel important to yourself.
This suggestion is not meant to convey that you should be conceited or falsely set up, but to have a feeling that you are somebody.

Our greatest men and women are usually modest and unassuming, but they know their importance, because they know their responsibility. Responsibility makes important people, and people important, as well.

Importance carries with it an as-suredness. Perhaps it can all be summed up in the one word — character. People with character stand out, separate and apart. They are the leaders, the creators, and the crusaders. They feel like somebodies, because they have to! They go ahead. They brush aside all obstacles. They are folks of vision and decision.

It is this thought of making oneself feel that one should be somebody — somebody useful and helpful in the world — that drives us all to work and strive toward some definite goal. Any worker, who has done his day's work faithfully and well, may honestly feel that he is somebody.

It isn't doing the spectacular things, but the essential things, connected with one's life that is so important. The things for which we seem best fitted to perform, the things that give us the most pleasure to do, and the things that benefit others as well as ourselves. No honest labor is menial. I watch a building about to be erected. I note men blasting for the foundation. I see others carrying away the rocks and dirt. Later I see masons at work, riveters, steel hoisters, and brick layers. All are important people because each is a builder! Each may well feel that he is a somebody.

Talk can't make you feel like somebody, but acts, deeds, and definite things achieved, can. And people will take note of you. You can't keep a torch from throwing out its beams — if it is lit! All good work, in time, is noticed, together with the one who performs it.

We are a somebody the moment
we do something that is noteworthy and useful. We are a nobody until we do!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Mood Of The Sky."

Just Folks

DREAMS
The night comes down with dreams and, Oh,
Sometimes they fearful seem,
But there are times when poor men know
Vast riches in a dream.

A little while they are allowed
All pleasures care denies—May walk with pompous men and proud,
Though soon to work they rise.

In dreams, poor men may sail the sea
In yachts of gleaming white.
From all that frets them they are free,
That little while at night.

When day too filled with trouble seems,
And man's life harsh and grim,
How good it is that happy dreams
At night may come to him!

OPA CLINGS TO SCHEDULE FOR MEAT CONTROL

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—OPA clung today to its schedule for restoring meat price ceilings September 9 despite the 11th hour snarl that kept live animals free of controls for four extra days.

When the new schedules are posted, however, they will average about five and one-half cents a pound higher for beef and between two and one-half and three cents a pound more for pork than June 30 ceilings. But they'll still be below current costs.

OPA and the agriculture department agreed on those estimates after differing sharply on what ceilings to clamp on the livestock markets.

"Mouthpiece for Profiteers"
Secretary of Agriculture Clinton
P. Anderson resolved that dispute by taking advantage of the new power Congress granted him. He directed OPA chief Paul Porter to hike the June 30 live animal ceilings by $2.25 a hundred for beef and $1.40 for pork in an effort to stimulate production.

The CIO cost of living committee today labeled this action as the climax to "a long series of incidents in which Anderson has acted as mouthpiece for profiteers."

In a statement issued by chairman John Thornton, the committee said American living standards have been dealt "a new and disastrous blow" and added:

"This country has a right to know whether the president stands behind Anderson's decision."

The cabinet officer himself had pointed to what he called an "alarming" liquidation of livestock during the period of no controls and asserted in a statement:

"The whole situation clearly emphasizes the urgent need for price levels which will be a stimulus for production, rather than levels which would impede production."

The new live animal ceilings were to have gone into effect last midnight, but OPA late yesterday announced a delay until Sunday to permit the agency to complete work on a new set of prices tops for packers, wholesalers and retailers reflecting the higher levels ordered by the secretary.

Otherwise the food price picture increases for prepared pancake and waffle mixes, canned Hawaiian pineapple and pineapple juice, canned salmon, and most syrup.

'BRASS BRAINS' FINISHES SMALL JOB FOR NORWAY

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—For every day that "old brass brains" is at work 100 mathematicians might just as well go sit on their logarithms.

"Old brass brains," a contraption that looks like the innards of a watch magnified a million times, works for the U. S. coast and geodetic survey and has been for the last 36 years.

Just to give you a hint what the old girl has been up to since 1910, she finished a small job for Norway today.

Norway had asked for help until it could get its own tide-predicting system going again. So "old brass brains" went to work and predicted the tides, when and how much, each day for the next two years in nine

Norwegian ports.

It took her 18 days, par for the tide-predicting course.

Comdr. C. K. Green told a reporter that as many as 35 things must be considered when predicting tides.

For instance, in most places the moon exerts about two-thirds of the pull, while the sun, because it's so much farther away, provides the other third.

Yet in some spots, such as the islands of Tahiti and Truk, the sun packs more of a wallop than the moon.

Never mind why. Just tell your troubles to "old brass brains." She will see you through.

Green also disclosed there's an answer to that old question: "How deep is the ocean?" The answer is:
"It depends."

Due to winds and one thing and another, the Atlantic ocean is about six inches deeper on the Eastern coast during the fall than it is in the spring. "Old brass brains" has to—and does—take that into consideration.

But don't toss junior's algebra lesson or the family grocery bill at her.

"All she can do is figure tides,"
Green admitted.

Definitely a gal with a one-track mind.

LUXURY YACHT MYSTERIOUSLY SINKS IN LAKE

South Haven, Mich., Aug. 29 (AP)—Coast guard patrols today searched for survivors of the lavish yacht Verano, mysteriously sunk in the rough seas of Lake Michigan just as a lifeboat sent on rescue reached her.

The 92-foot-vessel, owned by Maynard Dowell, Park Ridge, Ill., manufacturer, went down "without a sign of life aboard" three quarters of a mile off shore north of here late yesterday.

A renewed search of the waters by plane and boat was ordered at dawn today in the hope of finding the three men believed to have been aboard.

Apparently Abandoned
The Verano, which seamen said cost perhaps $100,000 to build, had left Chicago for Holland, Mich., where she was to get repairs.

Aboard were Chester Granath of Chicago, an employee of Dowell's company, and an engineer and cook known as "Fred" and "Ben." Guardsmen said Granath was described to them as an experienced sailor.

Shore watchers saw the Verano in trouble seven and a half miles north of here, but already awash, she went down stern first as coast guardsmen who sped to her side were about to fling a line aboard.

The guardsmen glimpsed loose lines hanging from one side, indicating, they said, that the dingy she carried had been let down and that her passengers had abandoned her sometime before.

Cause A Mystery
The Verano sank in 60 feet of water and left tossed on the waves above her a pilot, a door, hatch ladder, and coast guardsmen also reported seeing "several" cork life jackets.

Owner Dowell said he could not account for the sinking. He said the Verano had a leak "along her keel," which was to have been repaired at Holland, but that he did not believe this could have been the cause.

"We don't have any idea what happened," said Chief Bosun's Mate William Herbst, commanding the coast guard lifeboat.

There are 29 islands in the Bahamas.

STATE REVAMPS STANDARDS FOR TRAFFIC GUIDES

Harrisburg, Aug. 29 (AP)—The state highways department today announced adoption of a new standard for painting traffic lines which it believes will make the highways safer and reduce a death and accident toll which Governor Martin has termed "Worse than war."

The new markings consist of a double line at horizontal and vertical curves. In most instances one line is solid, while the other is broken.

Recommended Nationally
Under the old Pennsylvania Standard, solid lines indicate that it should not be crossed by vehicles, while a broken line was intended as a guide line and could be crossed safely when passing another vehicle. The new markings follow recommendations of the American association of state highway officials, the department reported, and are in line with Martin's campaign to promote highway safety.

Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said the new type of traffic line now being applied on the highways of the state preserves the principle of the old Pennsylvania standard. When the broken line is on the right side in the direction of travel, the line may be crossed. When the solid line is on the right side in the direction of travel it may not be crossed.

To Expedite Traffic
A solid line, he explained, is placed at each horizontal or vertical curve and the broken line is placed along side of it when the sight distance increases sufficiently to permit safe crossing.
Smock said his department engineers feel that the new method of painting curves will expedite the flow of traffic by permitting vehicles to pass slower moving vehicles after the curve has been negotiated and there is sufficient sight distance to do so.

Proper observation of lines by motorists will enable Pennsylvania to fulfill its commitment to reduce highway accidents, he added.

PRICE URGES LAW CHANGES

Harrisburg, Aug. 29 (AP)—Revision of the state voter registration law is advocated by Col. John S. Rice, nominee for governor, as a major plank in the Democratic November election platform.

"The law should be so framed," Rice said in a statement, "as to provide for widest possible participation by all citizens in elections, consistent with adequate protection against fraud, and with a minimum of red tape."

"We also need safeguards against the widely prevalent and clearly unlawful practice of giving blank registration cards to political workers, with no means of knowing whether the signed cards that they return represent valid registrations or phantom voters."

Rep. H. G. Andrews, Cambria county, the Democratic platform chairman, said the platform will be submitted to the state committee at a meeting here September 11.

He said it would deal with "matters that actually concern the average family in its daily life, such as public health, housing, education, conditions of employment, and the financial problems that confront cities and school districts."

The Republican platform committee, headed by Fred Peters, Montgomery county, was slated to meet here tomorrow to complete its work. Final action will be taken at a meeting of the Republican state committee in Pittsburgh on September 7.

PHARMACISTS SEEK TO CURB 'SLEEP' DRUGS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29 (AP)—The American Pharmaceutical Association today had before it for study a model state law designed to curb distribution of sleep-producing drugs as a means of cutting the high accidental death rate from overdosing.

Details of the model law, prepared by the association's legislative committee, were not disclosed pending consideration by delegates attending an annual convention here.

A spokesman said that if the bill receives favorable action, it will go into the hoppers of every state legislature for action.

Hear Dr. Dunbar
Consideration of the model bill came on the heels of an address by Dr. Paul B. Dunbar, U. S. Commissioner of foods and drugs, on regulations of drugs in inter-state commerce.

He said a recent court decision upheld the right of his agency "to control the improper distribution of drugs even at the community level, if the drugs have at some time moved across a state line."

He said that some drugs, such as barbiturates and certain other sleep-producing and narcotic prescriptions, must carry the warning, "may be habit forming," unless the prescription is not refillable.

Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general of the U. S. army, touched off a heated debate at last night's convention session when he expressed his views concerning the future organization of the army, particularly its medical service.

Debate Army Plan
Gen. Kirk said the army's medical department now was seeking to effect a permanent medical service corps combining all personnel such as pharmacists, optometrists and sanitary engineers.

"We learned the value of such a corps in the war and we want to keep it in our modernized peacetime army," Gen. Kirk declared.

This brought Dr. Robert L. Swain, of New York, editor of "Drug Topics" to his feet with the declaration that "pharmacists feel that pharmaceutical practice is vitally necessary to the health of the armed forces and that such service can only be rendered by pharmacists than 8,000 fans crowded Cricket field for the card staged by Promoter Hardy Lamont.

New Switchboard Contemplated Here

New equipment to substantially increase the capacity of the Gettysburg telephone exchange is on order it was revealed today. A poster which illustrates the planned expansion of the Gettysburg switchboard is on display at the centre square business office of the company.

According to C. A. Bixler, district manager, the equipment needed to move the volume of business being offered at the local telephone exchange has been on order for several months. Bixler said that the company originally expected that the switchboard additions would be installed this year, but that present conditions indicate that the equipment will not be delivered until sometime in 1947.

Installations of temporary emergency equipment have been made recently at both the Gettysburg and Biglerville exchanges in an effort to handle the telephone traffic which always accompanies the apple and peach harvest in the county.

IN MEMORIAM In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, Mrs. Harvey Beamer, who departed this life three years ago, August 29, 1943.

Beyond life's gateway there is an open gate. At the end of the road through which each one must go alone. There is a light we cannot see, our Father claims his own. Beyond the gate my loving wife finds happiness and rest. In the heaven that a loving God knows best.

I have lost my sole companion, a life linked with my own. Day by day I miss you more as I walk through life alone.

Harvey Beamer.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my mother who passed away August 29, 1943.

She is not dead, she is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of farewell.

God knew she was suffering. And the hills were hard to climb. So He closed her weary eyelids. And whispered peace be thine. Her beautiful eyes are closed in sleep.

Her willing hands are still. Her tired feet are resting now. It was her Master's will. Sadly missed by her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Heller.

Chapter 8

August Bradford got up and walked to the window and looked out. When he turned he asked, "What O'Dell family are you, Mrs. O'Dell?"

The question was so different from anything that Lillie had expected that she was lost for a moment. Then she faltered, "The Washington House O'Dells. I'm Pud's wife."

She saw Mr. Bradford's eyebrows raise. "Pud O'Dell is older than I. He used to puddle here in the mill. That's how he got his name—to distinguish him from his cousin Jim in the Open Hearth."

Lillie smiled at him. "I'm married to young Pud. His father's dead."

Lillie waited, but he said no more. He simply stood looking down into the mill yard. When he did turn around, she knew he had made a decision.

"Mrs. O'Dell, you probably know as much about my family as I do. Maybe more. I understand we're Bradford City's chief topic of conversation."

Lillie nodded. "So, Mrs. O'Dell, maybe you know it's the women in my family who control its destinies. I control the mills. They control the family. I don't know your Violet. No matter who she is or what she is, she would be too good for my son. It's a shame for her sake I can't buy her off."

Lillie stared wide-eyed at the bitterness of the man before her. "I'll be kind to your sister, but I'm not a very kind man, Mrs. O'Dell, and she might not be able to recognize my kindness. But that's all I can do."

Lillie said, "I see," and got up and turned to leave. August Bradford's voice stopped her. "Mrs. O'Dell." She turned and he was holding out his hand. They shook hands without speaking and Lillie turned and left the office quickly.

In the jitney that carried her to the Hill, Lillie tried to think, but her thoughts would not run in order. They were just a crazy jumble of words, phrases, sentences, none of which made sense.

But when she stepped inside the gloomy hall of the Bradford home, pushing before her the protesting maid who would have kept her out, she was as cool as the big house itself. "Tell Mrs. Bradford that Mrs. Laurence Bradford's sister is waiting to see her. And tell her," she added, "that I'll wait here in the hall the rest of the day if I have to."

She hadn't long to wait. The maid came back and took her to an upstairs sitting room. The voice that presently said, "Yes? What is it?" was more than cool and quiet. It was cold; cold and for all its smoothness, there was a harsh note running through it.

"I'm Mrs. O'Dell," Lillie said. "Violet's sister."

"Violet?" Mrs. Bradford asked. Lillie took a good look at her and quite involuntarily her eyes widened. Mrs. Bradford's hair was bobbed and Lillie knew from conversations in the backroom that she was close to forty-five. Her hair was black, very black. Too black, Lillie decided, and the face and body were as lean as a half-starved cack dog's. For that moment Lillie felt sorry for her. For her face had a broken-up look, as would the face of one who had had a bad shock, and Lillie realized that their son's marriage had been as much a shock to the Bradford's as Violet's news had been to her. But her pity died a quick death. "I don't know any Violet," Mrs. Bradford said.

"Well, you will," Lillie answered. "Just wait. Your son's married her."

"I don't agree with you," Mrs. Bradford's voice rose alarmingly and she brought it down quickly to its former quiet tone with a visible effort. "Your sister—this Violet has married my son. She has taken advantage of a boy's sentimentality and romanticism. I'll never forgive Henrietta Sturm for having her there, taking her in a nobody."

"I'll never forgive Henrietta Sturm either," Lillie interrupted. "Your son has married my sister. God help her. And he isn't any boy. He's twenty and he's been thrown out of a half dozen colleges and he's managed to stay out of the Army. You ought to be grateful to Violet. She can do more to keep him out now than you ever could."

Lillie leaned toward Mrs. Bradford and shook one

St. Paul, Minn., (AP)—Fish out of water can cause a lot of trouble sometimes, says F. L. Steinbright, superintendent of the Northern Pacific Railway Telegraph. He said a nine-inch bullhead lodged on the cross arm of a 30-foot pole on one of the railway's telegraph circuits near Lombard, Mont., acted as a conductor between a live wire and a grounded wire, thus killing the circuit. He said the fish probably was dropped by a fishhawk or osprey.

Eastern Europe's Elections Promise More Trouble Between Russia And West

DIFFERENCES IN IDEOLOGIES NOW COME TO LIGHT

By GLENN BABB

(AP Foreign News Analyst)

As if there were not troubles enough already between the western powers and the Soviet bloc, the issue of elections in eastern Europe promises to produce continued friction in the coming weeks. Between now and winter a series of contests is scheduled that can hardly fail to produce new points of disagreement. Nothing has shown so clearly as this election question that the spokesmen of the great powers were not speaking the same ideological language when they met at Yalta and Potsdam to plan the futures of the eastern lands which were being freed from the Nazi yoke. The word election means one thing to Americans and Britons, quite another to the Russians and those who follow them. The upshot is that pledges made at Yalta and later conferences have little chance of being fulfilled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Impending Crises

Here are some of the impending elections:

Bulgaria holds a plebiscite September 8 to determine whether she shall abandon the monarchy under the boy King Simeon or become a republic. Then on October 27 an election of a constituent assembly is scheduled. Secretary Byrd took occasion in Paris recently to inform the speaker of the Bulgarian parliament that the course of politics in Bulgaria was not pleasing to the United States.

Romania's premier some weeks ago declared that free and unfettered elections would be held in September, in accordance with the Moscow agreement of the Big Three. This week, however, he told the American Charge d'Affaires, according to reliable information that the elections must wait on the arrival of large grain imports, since the government would not stand for a "hungry electorate." That makes Romania's political future extremely uncertain.

Both the Romanian and Bulgarian governments are under Moscow's sponsorship and guidance.

In the Russian zone of Germany communal elections are to be held September 1 and the two following Sundays which will provide a test of the strength of the communist cause supported by the Red army. On the other side of the ideological fence, Greece is voting Sunday on whether to restore King George II to the throne. Britain and America are trying to ensure a free, secret ballot, but with the leftist opposition to the monarchy declaring in advance that the election will be unfair and threatening abstention, the full play of Democratic processes can not be expected. And Russia is making her displeasure known in advance by permitting her ambassador to leave Athens.

But the major election quarrel of the moment concerns Poland. A national election, intended to produce a new parliament, has been set tentatively for November. However, the election laws have not yet been enacted and Tuesday the Warsaw government announced that the parliamentary session which was to have framed them, set for August 31, had been postponed indefinitely.

Far Cry From Yalta

Whether this is connected with the current acrimonious exchanges between Washington, London and Warsaw—with Moscow in the background—is not quite clear. The United States and Britain took occasion last week to tell the Poles that reports of the June 30 plebiscite had not been reassuring as to the future of true democracy in Poland and to ask for certain guarantees as to the November voting. Poland replied with bitter "unofficial" statements saying in effect that it was none of the western powers' business.

That shows how far the nations have split on their interpretation of the agreements and pledges of Yalta and Potsdam.

Molotov Walks Out Again

V. M. Molotov, (nearest camera) Soviet foreign minister, followed by Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky, leaves Paris ceremonies marking the second anniversary of the city's liberation from the Germans. The abrupt departure apparently was the result of a seating arrangement which placed the two in the second row, behind representatives of the United States, Britain, China and France. ## Duff Promises To Continue Clean-up Harmony, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania Attorney General James H. Duff declared Tuesday night in this Butler county community that "nobody and no group of bodies is big enough" to block the stream anti-pollution drive initiated under the administration of Governor Edward H. Martin.

Duff, Republican nominee for governor, declared in a broadcast campaign speech that the time will return when clear Pennsylvania rivers will again be paradises for sportsmen and outdoor lovers.

"The problems are immense and difficulties great," he declared. "It will take time to prepare the plans and get the work done. But beyond any doubt, for the first time in the history of the state, the whole business of cleaning the streams of Pennsylvania from pollution is definitely on the way. And nobody and no group of bodies is big enough to stop it."

MAY BE MILLION MEN ILLEGALLY IN U.S. UNIFORM

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The army, still worried about getting more men into uniform, is almost fretful over how to persuade perhaps a million to doff their khaki.

That's the number the war department suspects may be attired illegally in army dress—including some who never packed a rifle. They bought their military garb at surplus stores with no questions asked. The department is concerned for two reasons:

1. The army gets a black eye whenever some individual in uniform commits a crime or otherwise misbehaves in public.

2. Morale of men still in uniform goes down when fresh criticism is heaped on the army.

What To Do?

Brig. Gen. B. M. Bryan, the army's provost marshal general, described the situation today as "a headache to the war department and to every MP."

What to do about it is causing much scratching of official heads. One proposal was to ask Congress to tighten existing laws which provide a maximum of six months in jail and $300 fine for wearing a uniform illegally.

But that was put on the shelf even before Congress quit for the year.

Individual Incomes Nearing New High

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Figures compiled by government experts today indicate that individual incomes will set a record of around $165,000,000,000 this fiscal year—exceeding the booming war year of 1945 by $5,000,000,000.

Moreover, information gathered by the taxation staff employed by Congress and made available to a reporter suggests that even this estimate might be revised upward before the fiscal year ends next June 30.

This raised a possibility that the federal budget, thrown out of kilter by depression and war, might be brought into balance.

All these things are based on the assumption that the nation will remain relatively free of any large-scale strikes for the remainder of the fiscal year.

SUPREME COURT ACTION SOUGHT IN JEWEL CASE

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Frankfurt, Aug. 29 (AP)—Counsel for Kathleen Nash Durant moved today for U. S. supreme court intervention in the $1,500,000 Kronberg jewel theft trial.

Lieut. Col. John S. Dwinell disclosed that an effort would be made in Washington to obtain a hearing before one of the high justices on his petition for immediate release of the WAC captain accused of taking part in the theft of the Hesse crown jewels while she managed the army's billet in the Kronberg castle.

Dwinell told a reporter the court as a body had advised him no action could be taken until the end of the current recess October 7. He said, however, that hearings before an individual justice sometimes are granted.

Hear Jewel Expert

The defense intends to argue that the defendant's constitutional rights were violated in her treatment by the men who arrested her and subsequently by the method of bringing the case to trial.

The prosecution neared the conclusion of its case at a half day session today, with expert testimony by a German jeweler, Heinrich Mercker. He inspected the jewel collection and appraised two diamond necklaces, a brooch and two strings of pearls at a total of more than $70,000.

Major Roy E. Grantham, chief prosecutor, indicated he would rest his case tomorrow.

The trial probably will be recessed for some days, attorneys said, until certain witnesses for the defense either are brought here or

20 NATIONS NOW HAVE ACCEPTED WORLD COURT

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—This country has agreed to let the world court have some say over some of our problems with other nations. This, like our joining the United Nations last year, is another step away from isolation. It took us 25 years to make this step.
The court's purpose is to try to settle international disputes—legal disputes—by international law.
By this legal means of ending a quarrel nations may be less inclined to leap at one another's throat.
The court—called the international court of justice—is part of the United Nations machinery for keeping peace.

Twenty Nations In
All nations which became members of the United Nations automatically became members of the court.
But only those nations which specifically agreed to let the court have authority over some of their problems could sue, or be sued, in the court.
Twenty nations, including this country and Britain, have agreed to accept the court's authority, or jurisdiction. Others—like Russia, China, France—have not agreed, yet.
Russia couldn't walk into the court and sue us, nor could we sue Russia, since we accept the court's jurisdiction but Russia doesn't.
But we've put pretty strict limits on the kind of jurisdiction the court can have over us.
For example: the court has no authority over problems which we consider domestic, like tariffs or immigration.
We've agreed to let the court have jurisdiction over legal disputes, only. For example: interpreting a treaty if a dispute arose with another country.
(The shooting down of American planes by Yugoslav airmen, for instance, would be a problem for the court. We'd take it to the U. N. security council.)
(There'll probably be plenty of arguments over what is a case for the court, and what isn't.)

Special Forms For Amputees Ready Soon

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Forms which amputee veterans will use in applying for automobiles at government expense will be ready in about two weeks, the Veterans Administration said today.
The forms will be issued by VA contract representatives and field offices.
The price of a car must not exceed $1,600, including special attachments and taxes. The veteran cannot buy a more costly one and pay the difference, VA ruled.

Publisher Killed In Auto Crash

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Roy C. Holliss, 56, acting president of the News Syndicate Company, Inc., publisher of the New York Daily News, was killed early today in an automobile accident near Westport, Conn., the newspaper announced.
The paper said Holliss was riding in the front seat of a car driven by Frederick H. Bedford, of Westport, when the machine failed to negotiate a curve and crashed into a tree on Connecticut Route 136, a half mile from Bedford's home in Westport.
Bedford, president of the Atlas Supply company here and a director of numerous corporations, including Standard Oil of New Jersey, was only slightly injured, the News said.

HAS NOSEBLEED FOR 3 WEEKS

Philadelphia, Aug. 29 (AP)—A three-week nosebleed that afflicted Clarence Zane, 19, of Bridgeton, N. J., presented a novel problem today for doctors at Hahnemann hospital.
Two transfusions were given the weakened youth last night and he previously had received several others at Bridgeton hospital where efforts had been made to stop the flow.
Zane told hospital authorities the nosebleed began Aug. 8 after he was struck in the face by a piece of brass tubing while at work. He said he at first considered the accident minor but when the usual home remedies failed he consulted a physician who ordered him to the hospital.
Zane was brought here in a police-escorted ambulance that raced the 138 miles from Bridgeton in 45 minutes. Bridgeton Patrolman Fred Semple and a private nurse accompanied him on the trip with Woodbury, Camden and Delaware river bridge officers as motorcycle escorts.
At Hahnemann Zane was placed under the care of Dr. Charles Hollis, chief of the eye, ear, nose and throat department.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Martin are vacationing for several weeks in Virginia.
Mrs. Mary Eugenia Rice left Thursday evening by plane from Baltimore for Los Angeles, Calif., to join her husband, La. Earl Rice. Mrs. Rice expects to be gone about six weeks during which they will reside in San Bernardino, Calif. Mrs. Rice is the former Mary Eugenia Matthews.

MASS FLIGHT BY FIFINELLAS

Lock Haven, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—Women fliers of the order of Fifinellas girded for a mass flight today of more than 100 planes from here to the National Air show at Cleveland, a test which Piper Aircraft Corporation officials say will be the largest of its kind in the history of peacetime aviation.
Taking off from Cub Haven airport, nestled in the heart of central Pennsylvania's rolling hills, the ex-Wasps flying in formation of 25 planes each expect to make the 260-mile trip in nine hours, less a four-hour refueling stop at New Castle, Pa.
Miss Clara Jo Marsh, New York City, president of Fifinella, organization of ex-Wasps who ferried aircraft for the army air forces during World War Two, said the all-woman flight will buzz the air show grounds at Cleveland and then land at Akron, Ohio.

Fifinellas will deliver the planes to prospective purchasers in the south, midwest, and west coast in behalf of the Piper firm.
The mass flight climaxes a three-day meeting of the women pilots which saw former Wasps from all sections of the country convene here for their first postwar reunion.
Crowned as "Champion Fifinella" was Miss Jackie Hughes, of Reedley, Calif., for her prize winning achievement in a series of spot landings and simulated bomb dropping tests.
It is estimated that there are 14 to 18 square feet of skin on the average adult human body.

GOVERNMENT TO ACT IN SHORTAGE OF FREIGHT CARS

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The government marshaled the powers of eight agencies today to deal with a freight car shortage officially termed one of the worst blocks in the road back to normal peacetime economy.
Reconversion Director John R. Steelman said the struggle to move record crops and mounting factory output had developed "a threatening transportation crisis."
He warned that failure to solve the problem could have "grave consequences" for the reconversion program in the next few months.
In a statement from his White House office, the reconversion chief called on the agencies for "prompt and vigorous action" to relieve a situation which finds the railroads carrying more freight than before the war with one-third fewer cars.

Urgent Use of Water Carriers
Quickly, the Civilian Production Administration—one of the eight—let it be known it stands ready to use its potent priorities power if that step is needed to help break the transportation bottleneck.
A CPA official said priorities to channel lumber and steel to short-age-hit freight car builders and repair shops could be issued although he expressed belief that "the job can be done without them."
Steelman said 40,000 new cars are needed this year and that 80,000 old ones are in urgent need of repair to get them rolling again.
Topping Steelman's list of suggested remedies is a proposal that as much freight as possible be diverted to water carriers—both coastal and inland.

BANK LOANS TO BUSINESS HIT NEW HIGH MARK

"There was mounting evidence this week of vast increases in commercial bank lending to stimulate business, industry and agriculture," according to an article in The Pennsylvania Banker by Harris Vennema, editor. The article continues:

1. In the last year, commercial banks throughout the nation have lifted their credits by more than $2,250,000,000, above the previous high levels reached in 1920. Banking quarters reported there is every indication the lending trend will continue to rise for many months.

2. The Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia reported that in the Third Federal Reserve District commercial loans in the week ended July 21 totaled $303,000,000, an increase of $21,000,000 in a five weeks period and $99,000,000 in a year.

3. The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reported that commercial loans of 10 big banks in Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Cincinnati on August 14 were 35 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Debt Credit Not Offset
Despite the rapid increase in commercial loans, the amount has not been sufficient to offset the decline in net Government debt and extension of bank credit in carrying the war debt.

Reporting member banks of the Federal Reserve in 101 leading cities have cut their investments in U. S. Government securities and loans to brokers and others for carrying and buying such securities by a total of more than $6,350,000,000. But total loans and investments of the reporting banks are down only a little more than $3,250,000,000 because of the rising commercial loans.

In the Third District, member banks reported loans to brokers on July 21 totaled $50,000,000, an increase of $7,000,000 in the five-week period and $6,000,000 over a year ago. But other loans to carry securities totaled only $43,000,000, down $18,000,000 for the five-weeks and $19,000,000 in the last year.

Third District loans on real estate advanced to $47,000,000, an increase of $3,000,000 for the five-weeks period and $14,000,000 over a year ago, while other loans mounted to $163,000,000, up $4,000,000 for the five-weeks and $39,000,000 for the year.

Holdings of U. S. Government securities totaled $1,686,000,000, a decline of $79,000,000 in five-weeks and $390,000,000 in a year. Holdings of other securities reached $196,000,000, up $6,000,000 for the five-weeks period and $18,000,000 for the year.

Vigorous As Ever
The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reported that the year-old rise in commercial loans in the Fourth District appeared to be as vigorous as ever.

Comment on the commercial loan increase centers upon the current price level. One of the strongest indications that the trend will continue is said to be the fact that the rise has been largely without regard to seasonal downtrends of the pre-war variety.

With the long rise toward the Christmas peak at hand, the figures are expected to move upward as formerly, but more swiftly than has been the case in the pre-war years.

One of the most important factors in the rise has been the swelling inventories of wholesalers and retailers of consumer goods. More money is needed to carry the inventories, and the need is expected to grow with increasing supplies of these goods as industry hits its stride.

Along with this has gone the steadily rising price level, which is expected to continue throughout the Fall and may rise in a very inflationary fashion over a longer period.

Influencing the increasing commercial loans is the rising tide credit made directly and indirectly to finance consumer purchases of durable goods such as household appliances and automobiles, as well as soft goods through retail charge accounts.

Federal Reserve studies indicate that both kinds of credit are increasing sharply. Consumer credit apart from that extended in the home modernization field increased by $625,000,000 from last October, when "regulation W" was eased, to May. Since then, the rise is speeding up.

Steel Customers Go On Black Mart

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Failure of post-war price and production controls has driven customers of the steel industry to black markets and "almost fantastic" barter operations, the Iron Age said today in a weekly survey.

Such controls were successful in wartime when output was concentrated on not too many sizes, shapes and quantities of steel, the magazine said.

Today, with a tremendous increase in orders and consumers, these controls are falling far short of producing a normal and healthy peacetime steel distribution, the survey continued.

"The steel industry and its consumers," the publication stated, are "in a state of anxiety, nervousness, or maybe more descriptive, postwar slap-happiness."

Sisters Reunited Thru Advertisement

Bradford, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—A classified advertisement in the Bradford Era recently led to the reunion of two sisters who hadn't met since infancy.

They were Bertha Love, 21, and Louella Love, 19. Bertha inserted the ad in an attempt to locate a lost camera and gave her name. Louella saw the ad and wondered if the camera owner could be the sister she had never seen. Bertha had lived with her mother in Olean, N. Y., until recently when she moved to Bradford and Louella had been adopted at birth.

Louella telephoned Bertha and arranged a meeting. Then the girls found they were sisters and had been living in the same city. The sisters have decided to live together.

IMMIGRANTS TO GERMANY NEW PROBLEM

By JAMES DEVLIN
Herford, Germany, (AP)—A new problem for occupation authorities is the demobilized allied soldier who finds that civilian life fails to meet his expectations and smuggles himself back into Germany.

"We are getting quite a few of these cases," said a British official, although the exact number is unavailable.

What impels a soldier, given a chance to enjoy placid life at home, to return to these bomb-shattered cities—particularly when an American army survey shows that the highest hope of many Germans is to leave the country and start life anew elsewhere?

Three Reasons
Officials say there are at least three reasons.

First, and most obvious, some have fallen in love with German girls and want to return to them.

Second: Adventurous types, after years in the army, find life at home comparatively dull. The rough and tumble atmosphere of postwar Germany seems more exciting.

Third: Some, fully intending to stay home, can't find jobs, or jobs as well-paying as they want. For years army life has been a part of him, with its work—and its "fun." He comes back.

One illegal immigrant told a simple story.

His Punishment
He just donned his uniform again, joined a party of soldiers who were returning to Germany from leave in England and arrived here undetected. He lived here for six months without a ration card or

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—Mrs. Edward Moser, Gettysburg, spent several days this week with her sister, Mrs. Roy Maxell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daugherty attended the Retail Merchants Bureau picnic on Wednesday of last week at Kraiss club house along the Potomac river, near Clear Springs, Md.

Mrs. William Seltzer, Baltimore, spent last week with relatives in the Emmitsburg vicinity. While here she attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Margaret Lucille Pitez.

Lt. and Mrs. Charles Eckenrode and son spent last Friday in Baltimore.

A miscellaneous shower was given August 15 at the home of Mr. and official entry at any mess before he was discovered.

When asked how he did it, he replied: "Like any good soldier, by scrounging."

As punishment, he was ordered—not to stay in Germany—but to keep out for five years.

In another case, a British soldier fell in love with a German girl. He hoped to return as a member of the military government. He passed the examinations but was told it would be six months before he would be sent to Germany. Rather than wait, he returned on his own and was picked up.

Some Go Back Legally
Now that the marriage ban has been lifted, and troops may take brides to England, there may be fewer such cases.

The job situation alone causes many soldiers, particularly officers, to return to Germany legally as members of the military government.

Some of these officers have been in the army for five or six years, or more. Many joined up before they had a chance to get very far in business or other careers.

Mrs. Robert Pitez, Rocky Ridge, in honor of their daughter Margaret Lucille whose wedding took place August 19. Those present at the shower were: Mrs. Donald Harner, Mrs. Merle Pryor, Miss Jane Fitzgerald, Miss Dorothy Weller, Miss Shirley Moser, Mrs. Victor Flery, Mrs. Ray Ramsburg, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Bower, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Charles Valentine, Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. R. M. Zacharias, Mrs. John Hollinger, Mrs. Emory Valentine, Mrs. Maurice Zentz, Mrs. Norman Sixx, Mrs. Paul Sixx, Mrs. Clarence Stonesifer, Mrs. Arthur Starnier, Mrs. Roy Graham, Mrs. Ed. Smith, Mrs. Raymond Keilholz, Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner, Mrs. Maurice Moser, Mrs. Joann Eyster, Merle Pryor, Roy Graham, Phil Valentine, Roy Maxell, Bob Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mills and children, Buddy, Snooky and Mary Anne, of Westminster; Lillie Lantz and Virginia Pitez, of Frederick; Susan Daugherty, Judy Valentine and Ray Harner.

An evening of entertainment was held in the auditorium of the new Catholic high school, De Paul street, for the men, women and children who gave their services at the St. Joseph's church picnic held August 3. About 40 people attended. Games were played and refreshments served.

Harry Boyle, Jr., was a week-end guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyle, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Washabaugh and daughter, Sarah, spent several days last week with Mrs. Washabaugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Humerick.

Miss Catherine Hess, East Main street, had as her guest on Sunday, Miss Virginia Smith, of Taneytown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kugler visited Sunday at the home of Mr. Kugler's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kugler, De Paul street.

A meeting was held last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by several members of the Woman's club and the grange to determine a date for the community show to be held here.

The date was set for October 18 and 19. More definite plans will be announced in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boyle, of near town, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born Wednesday of last week at the Waynesboro hospital.

George F. Wantz is spending a two week's vacation in Emmitsburg, visiting his mother and friends. He and his family have been residing in Orlando, Fla., for the past three years.

Mrs. Mae Campbell, Kirkleigh Villa, Baltimore, is spending part of her two weeks' vacation visiting relatives and friends in town. During the first week of Mrs. Campbell's vacation she flew to Boston and back to New York stopping off at both places for several days.

Don Morley, of Canada, is spending sometime at the home of his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Stinson.

Mrs. James Brookes and daughter, Anne, of Baltimore, spent a week recently with Mrs. Brookes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Boyle.
